Education

Ysgol Glantaf

Aberystwyth University

College of Law Chester

Cardiff University

After studying law at Aberystwyth University and at Chester, Joanna started her career as a Family law solicitor in Pontypridd. Following that she went on to make factual television programmes for 10 years before bringing the two together by managing HR for a large television production company in Cardiff. Joanna has now come full circle, returning to a law firm, albeit in the HR capacity.

Joanna speaks Welsh fluently and has a passion for working with people. This passion has brought her many highlights in her career – be it in programme making or by helping her colleagues flourish in their careers.

Joanna joined Darwin Gray in June 2016 as part of the Employment and HR team - strengthening our HR consultancy offering for our clients.

Joanna has extensive experience in HR, from conducting disciplinary and grievance investigations, to advising on performance management, drafting company handbooks and effecting business change. Joanna works alongside Fiona Sinclair as an HR consultant and works closely with our team of employment lawyers.

Personal Interests

Joanna's interests include all things active including sailing, skiing and cycling. Her personal triumphs to date include hiking Kilimanjaro and the Inca trail, cycling 6 countries in 6 days around the Alps and sailing the from Southampton towards Cherbourg before hitting an oil tanker!
